Hull and Welles Knew of No U. S. Promise To Help British or Dutch

Forewarning of Pearl Harbor Is Denied by Former Officials of State Department

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Cordell Hull and Sumner Welles declared today they had no knowledge of any commitment for the United States to go to war if Japan attacked a British or Dutch possession.

The former secretary and under-secretary of state were asked, at the Senate-House Pearl Harbor inquiry, specifically whether President Roosevelt made such arrangement with Winston Churchill at the Atlantic Charter meeting in the summer of 1941. Both Hull and Welles replied that they never heard of such a thing.

The two also testified that in the tense days before the Pacific war broke out they never got so much as a hint that Pearl Harbor might be attacked.

The investigating committee received a memorandum in which Gen. George C. Marshall and Adm. Harold R. Stark, the army and navy chiefs, suggested to President Roosevelt six points where the Japanese might attack — and Hawaii was not among them.

Sought To Delay War

Hull testified that he had hoped by "some remote, speculative possibility" to sway the Japanese from their aggressive course. He and Mr. Roosevelt, he said, strove in every possible way to avert or delay an armed clash with Japan without surrendering fundamental principles.

"We proceeded in an atmosphere practically of grabbing straws," he told the committee with a smile.

While Welles was testifying, Rep. Murphy (D-Pa.), a member of the investigating committee, remarked that there had been rumors that at the Atlantic conference, Mr. Roosevelt told Churchill America would "stall the Japs along for a period of four months." Murphy asked Welles whether there was any promise or commitment.

Welles replied that the only thing along that line "to the best of my knowledge and belief" was agreement for a parallel stand by the United States and Britain that it would not regard with indifference a continued aggressive expansion.

Murphy also asked about previous testimony by Adm. J. O. Richardson that President Roosevelt overruled the admiral when he suggested in 1940 that the United States fleet be removed from Pearl Harbor to the West coast of the United States.

Jap Envoy Gave "Warning"

"My feeling," Welles said, "was that moving the fleet from Hawaii—leaving Hawaii defenseless—would have had an important and prejudicial influence."

Hull testified that a special Japanese envoy, Saburo Kurosu, had said the fleet was insecure at Pearl Harbor.

Five Babies Are Reported Cremated at Tourist Camp; Three Are Held

MANCHESTER, Tenn., Nov. 23 (AP)—Three persons were being held on murder charges today, Sheriff Sim Banks said, in connection with the burning to death of five newborn babies and the destruction of the bodies of four others in a tourist camp ash heap.

Banks said H. H. Peters, 65, tourist camp operator, Mrs. Peters and her son, Harry P. Carraway, were in jail at Fayetteville, Tenn., on charges of murdering "a person or persons unknown."

Banks said officers found on the ash heap four baby dresses, a small bone and flesh wrapped in charred paper.

The trio was arrested after a Negro couple employed at the camp, Willie and Mary Ramsey, went to officers with the story that five infants had been cremated there since October 18, Banks said.

They claimed they had not been allowed to leave the place, he related, but slipped away last night after Peters refused to pay them their monthly wages.

GIs Destroy Cyclotrons That Japs Used in Search for Atom Secrets

BY MURLIN SPENCER
TOKYO, Saturday, Nov. 24 (AP)—American troops, wielding sledgehammers and cutting torches, began today the destruction of five cyclotrons through which Japan worked on the secrets of atomic power.

By order of Gen. MacArthur, occupation forces started at 10 a. m. (8 p. m., Friday, EST) to wreck a 200-ton American-made cyclotron and a smaller model in the Nishina laboratory in Tokyo; two smaller machines at Osaka Imperial university; and a fifth at Kyoto Imperial university.

Simultaneously, American scientists after studying Japanese records asserted that the Japanese had made "no important progress toward working out the principles involved in the atomic bomb."

Prof. Sekki Kikuchi, head of the physics department at Osaka Imperial university, said intensive work on the mass separation of unstable elements was considered by

British Sherman Tanks Blast Out Soerabaja Gains

By RALPH MORTON

BATAVIA, Java, Nov. 23 (AP)—British Sherman tanks, wheeling into action for the first time, blasted out 2,000-yard gains in Soerabaja today, while a British relief force fought bloody engagements enroute to Ambarawa where sixteen civilians were reported killed by Indonesian attacks.

Indonesian resistance melted before the tremendous fire power of the Shermans, and by nightfall Indian troops held two-thirds of Soerabaja in the swiftest advance yet scored in the drive to occupy the great port city.

The British made the gains without a single reported casualty, while at least forty Indonesians were killed or wounded.

Bitter fighting raged elsewhere, particularly along the twenty-five-mile road from Semarang to Ambarawa, where the Dutch news agency Aneta said sixteen persons, mostly women and children, were killed last night in attacks upon a civilian internment camp by Indonesian extremists.

In Batavia, acting Governor-general Hubertus Van Mook expressed disappointment over the refusal by Indonesian leaders to participate in further negotiations with the Dutch, but added that "as far as I am concerned I shall always keep the door for discussion wide open."

Van Mook, at a news conference, said the Indonesian refusal "to meet with us is in no way conducive to decreasing tension and discussion of our joint problems is the only way a solution to this most intricate problem can be found."

Chinese Communists Recapture Tsaoyang

CHUNGKING, Nov. 23 (AP)—Chinese Communists have recaptured the highway town of Tsaoyang in Central China, 145 miles northwest of Hankow, the Nationalist government acknowledged today as the civil conflict developed a new crop of unconfirmed reports on the maneuvering for possession of Manchuria.

The Communists themselves officially claimed capture of Tingshien, 125 miles south of Peiping on the Peiping-Hankow railway, and Yen-cheng, big town near the seacoast 120 miles northeast of Nanking and 160 miles northwest of Shanghai.

(A smaller town also named Yen-cheng is situated on the Peiping-Hankow railway in a zone where the Nationalists have said the Communists were operating.)

Roland Morris Dies

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23 (AP)—Roland A. Morris, 71, former United States ambassador to Japan, died at his home here today after a six months' illness.

PARIS, Nov. 23 (AP)—President DeGaulle called today for nationalization of credit, electricity and insurance, and for a foreign policy based on vigorous, sincere international co-operation.

The Constituent Assembly unanimously voted confidence in DeGaulle's new cabinet, and the Communists pledged loyal but "not blind" support of his interim government. The vote ended a nine-day crisis in which DeGaulle once threatened to resign because of Communist demands for certain posts.

DeGaulle called for reform of government administrative machinery, of the civil service and the judiciary system; for a constitutional change in the military structure for national defense; for "modernization" of mining, industry and agriculture; for an immediate budget, and revaluation of the franc.

France's foreign policy, said DeGaulle, would be for international organization, "a categorical imperative" in a world of atomic power.

A plan for co-operation with all nations, already begun in the treaty with Russia, said DeGaulle envisages closer relations with Italy, closer ties with Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg—and a resumption of relations with Spain when that country becomes democratic.

Moscow has criticized DeGaulle's previously-expressed desires for a family of Western European nations as an attempt to build a "bloc" against Russia. Today DeGaulle said France was tightening her bonds with Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg, but was doing it "without ceasing to hold out our hands to the Central European, Balkan, and Scandinavian states."

U. S. Troops Arrest 3,000 Germans, Seize Weapons

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 23 (AP)—American troops arrested 3,000 Germans and seized large stores of ammunition in mass raids Sunday in the United States occupation zone, Brig. General Edwin L. Sibert announced today.

"No symptoms of German rebellion" were found, Sibert added, "but it is serious to find so many weapons."

There have been an increasing number of instances of American troops being attacked and a number of insulting posters. Wire cuttings are a little on the increase."

Rear Adm. Dewitt Ramsey To Succeed Adm. Spruance

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Rear Adm. Dewitt G. Ramsey today was named deputy commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet succeeding Adm. Raymond A. Spruance.

Spruance recently was designated by President Truman to head the Pacific command succeeding Fleet Adm. Chester Nimitz, who has been ordered to Washington as chief of naval operations.

Hitler Ordered Poles Murdered "Without Mercy"

Goering "Danced Like a Savage" after Hearing Brutal Words

By NOLAND NORGAARD

NUERNBERG, Germany, Nov. 23 (AP)—Adolf Hitler told his generals ten days before the invasion of Poland that he had given orders "to kill without mercy all the men, women and children of the Polish race or language," American prosecutors disclosed at the war crimes trials today.

The brutal words of the fuhrer, delivered in a hitherto secret speech at Obersalzberg on August 22, 1939, so delighted Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering that he leaped on a table "and danced like a savage," a stenographic record of the address showed.

Another secret document told of a Hitler promise to the Japanese eight months before Pearl Harbor that Germany would accept the consequences "if Japan would get involved with the United States."

Still another secret document disclosed that Hitler in May, 1939, had told his general staff that Britain was the "driving force against Germany" and that he planned to avenge Britain off from the remainder of Europe by cutting her food supplies. He demanded the immediate destruction of the British fleet after the outbreak of war.

The speech on Poland was made the day after the announcement that Russia and Germany had concluded a non-aggression pact. Of that document Hitler said:

"Today's publication of the non-aggression pact with Russia hit like a shell. Stalin also said this course will be of benefit to both countries. The effect on Poland will be tremendous."

Hitler regarded the pact as only a temporary device was indicated in these words:

"And besides, gentlemen, in Russia will happen just what I have practiced with Poland. After Stalin's death—he is seriously ill—we shall crush the Soviet Union."

"The signing of the Soviet-German non-aggression pact was preceded on August 19 by a Soviet-German trade agreement, which provided for a German credit to the Soviet Union of 200,000,000 marks for the purchase of Russian goods by Germany to the value of 180,000,000 marks."

A non-aggression pact was announced in Berlin August 21, and signed in Moscow on August 24. A ten-year treaty, it provided that each country was bound to refrain from any act of force against the other, and that they would not support warlike acts against either by a third power.

Hitler said that Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch had proposed that personal contact with Stalin "is established. We need not be afraid of blockade. The East will supply us with grain, cattle, coal, lead and zinc. I am only afraid that at the last minute some schweinhund (filthy pig) will make proposals for mediation."

Calcutta Rioting Ends; U. S. Soldier Is Still Missing

CALCUTTA, Nov. 23 (AP)—Order was being restored gradually in Calcutta tonight after three days of rioting in which one United States soldier was missing, thirty others injured and a total of thirty persons killed.

No trace has been found of the missing American. His name was not disclosed.

British military police began patrolling the streets. Submachine guns and steel helmets were issued to the United States military police.

The city was quiet in all sections for the first time since the shootings began Wednesday during student demonstrations against the trial of Indian army officers who fought for the Japanese during the war. Police said there had been no serious clashes since late afternoon.

A canvass of five major hospitals in Calcutta showed that the shootings had killed thirty-one, were killed, sixteen injured seriously and 243 admitted for treatment. Scores of others suffered minor injuries.

The riots threw Calcutta into civil turmoil with 20,000 municipal workers going on strike. There were disturbances in Bombay and demonstrations in New Delhi.

Representatives of minor political parties in Bengal demanded appointment of a non-official committee to investigate the violence.

Gen. MacArthur Is Instructed To Delay Jap War Lords' Trial

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The War department said tonight that because of the international aspects of the case against the former Japanese premier, Tojo and other Japanese officials, Gen. MacArthur had been instructed to delay their trials as war criminals.

Cases involving violations of the laws of war or of inhumane acts against civilian populations will be pushed at once, however.

Text of the War department statement: "Because of the international aspects of the case against Tojo and other former Japanese high officials, who might be charged with planning and initiating a war of aggression or in violation of treaties or of conspiring for those purposes, Gen. MacArthur has been instructed not to proceed immediately with the prosecution of persons involved in those cases since it was necessary to consult with other governments concerned. These consultations are being carried on at present by the State department and prosecution will begin at the earliest practicable date."

"As to other cases involving violation of the laws of war and inhumane acts committed against civilian populations, Gen. MacArthur has been advised to proceed immediately."

An American diplomatic official explained that because Tojo and the other high diplomatic officials were regarded as international criminals, it was necessary to have other nations participate in their trials.

But the order sent MacArthur, it was added, apparently has no connection with any current discussions with Russia on Far Eastern affairs.

The Bank of Japan has announced it has set aside 3,000,000,000 yen to pay the cost of occupational troops for the first three months.

Edwin W. Pauley, President Truman's personal representative on the Allied Reparations Commission, said recently on his visit to Japan that he doubted if Nippon would be able to pay the occupation costs, not to mention the reparations.

Meanwhile as the latest of changes wrought in Japanese life following surrender, the office of lord keeper of the privy seal, an advisory institution which has been abolished formally today with imperial sanction.

The imperial household minister, confirming frequent reports, announced the end of the position, currently held by Marquis Koichi Kido, who figured in the elevation to office of such premiers as Hideki Tojo. No. 1 on the Japanese war criminal list.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters today issued authorization for the payment of debts owed banks closed September 30 on his orders. The action was taken after a number of creditors expressed a desire to pay maturing obligations. Accounts may not be drawn upon except on specified approval of MacArthur.

More than 200 famished Japanese broke into an American army warehouse yesterday at Sendai, police reported.

The police said they arrested 180 persons, including ninety-four women.

Iranian Capital Garrisons Will Be Strengthened

TEHRAN, Iran, Nov. 23 (AP)—Col. Norman Schwarzkopf, chief advisor of the Iranian gendarmerie, moved to safeguard Tehran itself today as an Iranian general declared rebels had killed twenty officials and landowners in continuing fighting at Mi-aneh in Azerbaijan province.

The general, reporting by radio from the Azerbaijan capital of Tabriz, said the rest of the troubled, Soviet-occupied province was quiet, but added that "foreign adventurers" still were loitering in Tabriz.

Schwarzkopf, former head of the New Jersey state police, said "I have ordered certain gendarmerie posts from the south provinces to Tehran to reinforce the capital's garrisons and concentrated in vital places in case something happens in Tehran."

On Wednesday, an Iranian military spokesman without amplification said about 6,000 Russian troops had been moved toward Karaj, twenty-five miles northwest of Tehran.

Schwarzkopf, who helped investigate the Lindbergh kidnapping case, came to Iran in September, 1942, to reorganize the country's national police.

The Iranian general commanding at Tabriz said fighting still was in progress at Mi-aneh, rail town 240 miles northwest of Tehran, where insurgents captured the rail station last week.

He said rebels had seized and shot twenty landowners and officials, and said there had been other casualties, but his report did not elaborate.

Soviet-Iranian military talks continued at Kazvin—eighty miles northwest of Tehran on the road to Tabriz—where the Russians had blocked Iranian reinforcements bound for Tabriz.

A government spokesman said Iran hoped to settle international aspects by direct conversations with Moscow. The spokesman added that United Secretary of State Byrnes had told Khan Ali Hussein, Iranian envoy in Washington, that the United States had a growing interest in the developments.

Senators Strike "News Freedom" Amendment from UNRRA Fund Bill

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—The widely-discussed "free press" amendment was struck from the $550,000,000 UNRRA fund bill today by a Senate Appropriations subcommittee. The members acted unanimously.

The House had stipulated that none of the fund could be spent in countries which refuse American reporters free access to news of UNRRA activities there.

The deletion is subject to review by the full committee Monday and on the Senate floor later. The $550,000,000 would fulfill the balance of this year's pledge of $1,350,000,000 for this year to the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

The subcommittee tacked on another amendment, however, designed to buy farm prices. It was opposed vigorously by the State department and UNRRA.

Sponsored by Sen. Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.), chairman of the Agriculture committee, it stipulates that none of the $550,000,000 can be used to buy any farm commodity, or article processed out of a farm commodity at a price which does not reflect full parity.

Parity is a level designed to give the farmer purchasing power equivalent to that held in a previous favorable period, in most cases 1909-14.

Engineer Grants Three Permits

Three occupancy permits and one building permit were granted recently at the city engineer's office.

Benjamin A. LaNeve secured a permit for his brother, William F. LaNeve, to occupy the first story of a three-story brick building at 190 North Centre street as a pool room. The building, owned by Louis LaNeve, is located in a business zoning district.

A permit was granted to Paul C. Nisewarner to occupy a building at 331 Virginia avenue as a wallpaper store. The one-story building, formerly used as a confectionery, is owned by Louis Cifala. It is located in a business zoning district.

J. M. Felmlee was granted a permit to occupy one room on the first floor of a building at 162 North Centre street as a secondhand clothing store. The two-story brick building is located in a business zoning district and is owned by Mrs. I. K. Little. The premises were formerly occupied by an optical company.

A building permit was secured by A. G. Wallis, 730 Payette street, to construct an addition to the first story of his home. The addition will be one story high and will measure about five by seven feet, with a concrete block foundation, frame walls covered with asbestos shingles, and a tin roof. Henry Dressman will do the construction work, estimated to cost $250.

Improvements Needed
At the Queen City Station

SINCE car-parking conditions at the Queen City station of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad have become serious, it strikes this newspaper that something ought to be done about it for obvious reasons.

Why wouldn't it be a good idea to convert the strip of grassed park to the south of the station into a car-parking lot? This would relieve the parking situation considerably, perhaps completely solve it.

Ordinarily, it is with reluctance that any movement to do away with a public park should be considered. But this is not a public park. It is private property, albeit that of a public utility, enclosed within iron gates and preserved only for attractiveness. That it is to be granted, has added much to the drabness of an out-dated railway terminal, and is pleasing to the eye all the year around, especially in the summertime, when beds of pretty flowers are cultivated and kept in good condition, and a central fountain sends its waters romantically showering into a receiving basin.

But the relief of congestion at the station would seem to add more to the comfort, convenience and pleasure of the traveling public than that afforded by the comparatively useless park, since it is shut off from the public by its forbidding fences.

Another improvement needed at this famous old station is a system of pavement drainage. Apparently there are no drainage facilities there, or if they are, they are blocked somewhere, for every time a shower occurs the greater part of the pavement is flooded to a depth of one or two inches, and people meeting and leaving trains have to wade through quite a pond, which is not only disagreeable but a health menace.

The lack of parking and drainage facilities, therefore, creates the most unfavorable impression among visitors and home folks alike particularly at those times when several passenger trains arrive and depart with the space of half an hour and there is a rainfall. But either condition is bad enough when it occurs singly and something ought to be done about both.

Reconversion Again
Is Hit on the Chin

THE WAGE DISPUTE in the motor industry, where the United Automobile Workers union is demanding an immediate thirty per cent increase in hourly pay from employers who reply as one that they cannot grant it unless they can charge higher prices for their products, has reached a crisis. Reconversion is again taking it on the chin.

The nation's automobile factories, beset with labor troubles ever since the sidown strikes of 1937, are again closing or closing. Pickets man the gates and the wheels have been stopped. What the average citizen, tired of these struggles that are being tossed continuously into the nation's economic machine, wants to know is what is behind this industrial strife and toward what goal is it pointed.

Little hope prevailed from the outset that a compromise could be reached short of a general shutdown of the nation's automobile factories. While the manufacturers are willing to make some concessions to keep the plants in production, it can be understood how they felt unable to take the gamble involved in the union demands. The OPA order placing ceilings on cars made by four manufacturers at levels slightly higher than in 1942, with the dealers absorbing the increases in retail prices would be held down, indicates that the employers were not very well able to grant the wage raise demanded at this time.

Perhaps they would be in that position later if they could achieve volume production and thus lower their unit costs. But mass production of cars has already narrowed that possibility, and the order by Price Administrator Bowles is based on 1941 production and takes into account only increases in wage and material costs that have already taken place. Higher production all along the line would be necessary to achieve any profit under the present setup. No allowance was made for higher wages now.

Perhaps the automobile manufacturers are refusing to submit the case to arbitration and perhaps inept union leadership erred in forcing the wage demands too early. Thus there have likely been blunders on both sides. The contention that the manufacturers open their books to grant the demands now because they don't hold much water because, for one thing, the books are generally open now, and the records can deal only with the past and not with an imponderable future.

Arbitration, however, would seem to be the best way out, so let it be hoped that this can be achieved since reconversion depends so largely upon the automotive industry.

A Point To Consider
About Regimentation

IN AN ARTICLE written for the party magazine, "The Republican," prior to his elevation to the Supreme Court of the United States, Harold H. Burton, then United States senator from Ohio, gives thoughtful voters something to think about.

It concerns the issue of regimentation, and the former senator argues in the article that the Republican party is the best fitted to serve the nation's peculiar needs of the hour.

"Regimentation is a natural mechanism in time of scarcity," the senator wrote. "It is the enemy of dynamic prosperity. Without even arguing whether the regimentation of America has been necessary or wise, it is clear that the political party now best fitted to end it quickly is the party that is and has been seeking to reduce it, and not the party that established it, developed it, and manned it with hundreds of thousands of appointees who are dependent for their own employment upon the everlasting extension of it."

Certainly the immediate beneficiaries of this regimentation cannot be expected to end it so long as they remain such. But the argument can easily carry against it as to its being necessary or wise, now that the war is over and what excuse there was for it likewise has ended. Aside from that it is something which runs counter to the American tradition and the American ideals, something which brought about the rise of the Axis governments, and which in time brought them to disaster.

Radar Dividends For Railroads

AMONG THE GOOD THINGS Americans expect the coming year to bring will be the emergence of the railroads from their present comparatively primitive state as far as train communications are concerned.

For some time major American railroads have been experimenting with radio equipment to enable effective communication between train and train, engine and caboose, and train dispatcher.

The benefits of such radio communication are obvious. A freight conductor of a mile-long train could notify the engineer immediately of any trouble affecting any car. The crew of one train could notify the crew of another affected by a smoking hot-box. An accident in an isolated spot could be reported immediately to dispatchers, who would send aid and warn other trains of the accident.

Undoubtedly radio equipment would be adopted by the railroads of their own accord, but now an order by the Federal Communications Commission makes it official. The order says that by New Year's Eve all the railroads of the country should have radio service. Universal installation of the service will pay dividends in greatly increased efficiency and safety.

More Time Is Needed
For This Santa Job

SANTA CLAUS is under attack by a Goucher college professor who would liquidate the jolly old man. Prof. Ivan E. McDougle, who teaches sociology, profoundly declares that Santa should be retired.

"The Santa Claus myth has lived too long in terms of child psychology," the professor says. "Parents should substitute democratic philosophy. Children would have to learn to get along."

Thus the professor outlines a job of the first magnitude for American parents. With the number of shopping days until Christmas daily becoming smaller—naturally—they are told to get a big supply of democratic philosophy on hand to take the place of Santa Claus.

Persuading the boys and girls to take a liberal offering of democratic philosophy in lieu of toys and dolls and candy and nuts and the 10,000 other items that Santa always carries in his sleigh is too big a job to be done in so short a time.

Perhaps it would be well to send an urgent request to Professor McDougle to postpone the eradication of Santa Claus and the glorification of democratic philosophy amid the spangles and glamor of Christmas. The parents of America are entitled to have more time to do this job.

It is disgusting, of course, to read of the moral filth, the utter selfishness and the brazen insolence in the revelations of the diary of Hitler's concubine; but this is one of the necessary prophylactics resulting from the European victory. It all stands as a horrible warning for the future and for that good reason alone it will likely last for many years to come even if there has to be nose-punching in order to get it.

Drew Pearson makes a rather strong point in discussing some of our diplomatic failures in saying that the nation must pick good diplomats as carefully as it picks good generals if we are to avoid another war because our foreign relations front is now our No. 1 front.

The pertinent suggestion is made that consideration of any scheme of national health insurance should include insurance for the health of the national treasury.

AN ASPIRATION

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

Each one of us, to be happy and useful in this life, must have an objective ever before us. Stevenson once said: "An aspiration is a joy forever, a possession as solid as a landed estate."

Aimlessness is sheer waste. We are uplifted, spiritually enriched, and constantly inspired, with a definite order of life ever visualized before our mental eyesight. We are thus ever stepping forward, with new fields to conquer, and new objectives of pleasurable activity to spur us to do our best and to make the most out of what we have and are.

All enthusiasm is born out of aspirations. We are not driven, but led by them. He who holds a holy aspiration within his heart, never grows dull or uninteresting. To climb higher, and to be of greater worth in the world is his one powerful set idea. Who can be unhappy with such a plan of life?

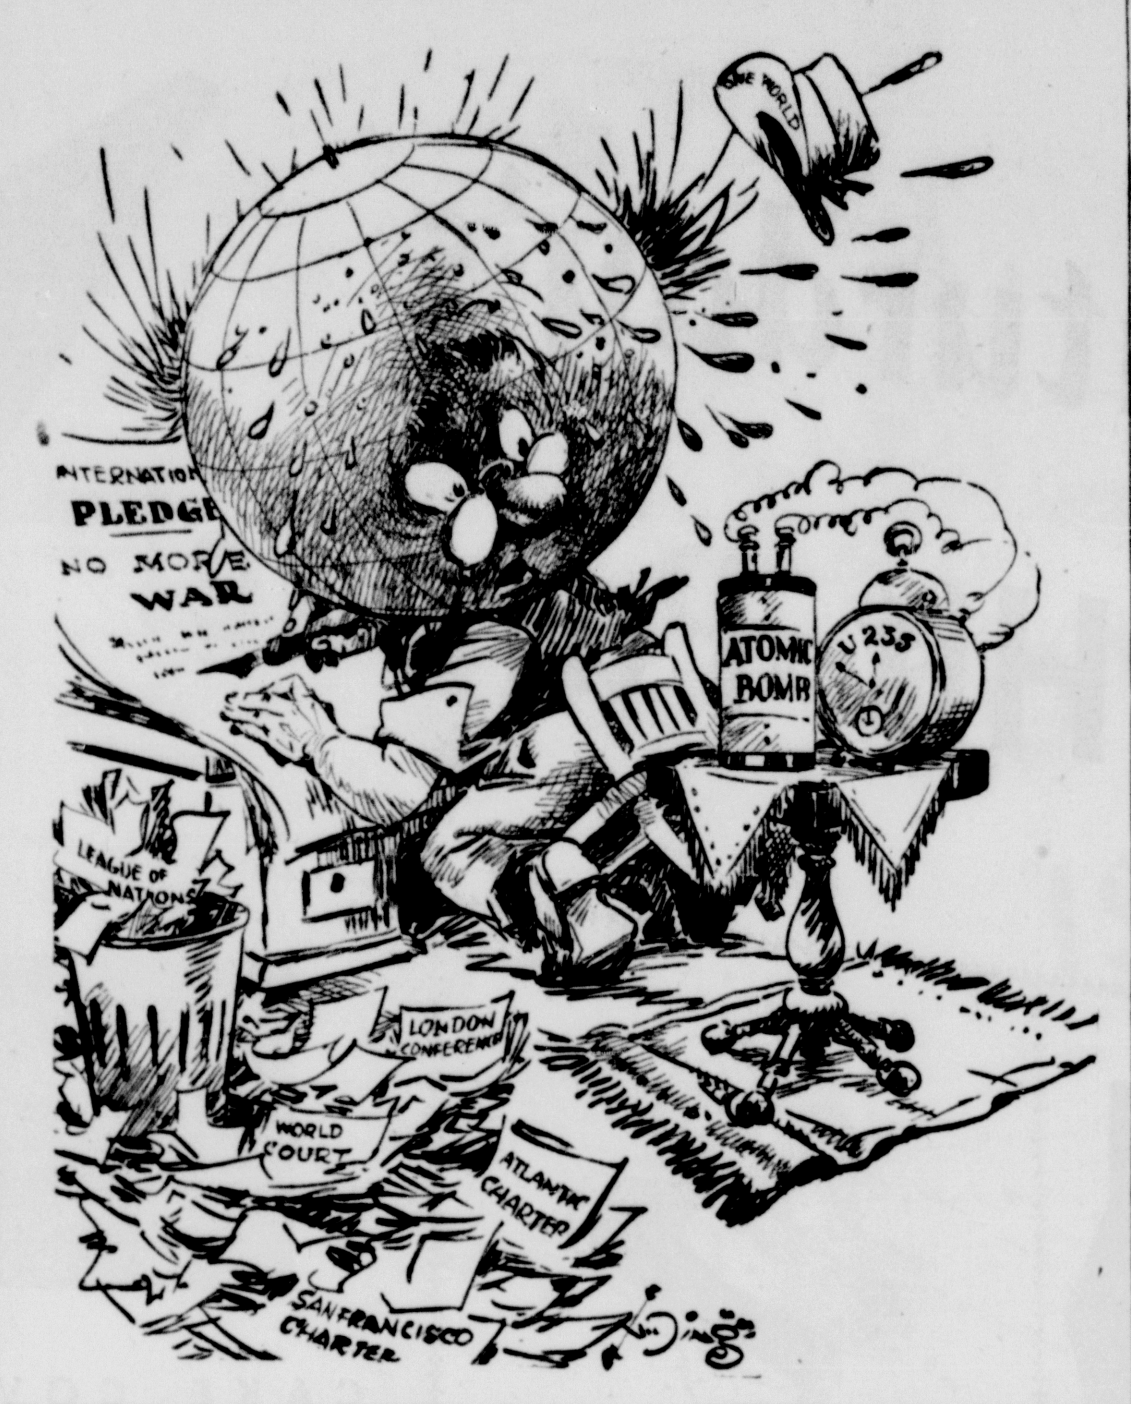

We can continually reward ourselves by a multitude of intellectual selves that stir us mentally and spiritually, all of which react upon us physically, ever freshening our viewpoints, and alerting us to new opportunities for service, leaving to us no time for selfishness and individual pity.

The thing that keeps the spirit of youth forever flowing in the veins is a hopeful, believing, and aspiring attitude toward life, and every activity in which we engage. We cannot crowd our lives too full of happy interests. Some of them, hobbies, if you prefer to name them thus. At any rate they keep sparkling the soul!

The art of growing happy is not learned in any school, outside the school of experience where this aspiration, inborn, gets a flying start—and the earlier the better. By constantly aspiring we keep conscious of ourselves, yet our hands are forever outstretched to seize upon every opportunity to be better and do better.

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

Senator Knowland's Industrial Peace Plan Gets Support in Congress, Pearson Says

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23—Invigorating Republican Senator Bill Knowland, of California, came up last week with a labor-management plan which nearly took the breath away from his conservative, hand-sitting GOP colleagues.

Young Knowland, who succeeded to the moss-grown Senate seat long occupied by Hiram Johnson, proposed that wages be adjusted once a year by collective bargaining in accordance with the earning power of business.

He also proposed an immediate wage increase of ten per cent in order to sustain buying power of business.

Finally the young California Senator proposed that labor and management get together and estimate each year what the coming year's business would be, together with the most equitable division of profits for the workers (through wages), for the stockholders (through dividends), and for the consumers (through lower prices).

Such a plan, of course, would mean the new and-to some business moguls—revolutionary step of opening the books of a company to the public.

Reconversion Stymied

Progressive as this is, Senator Knowland's idea already has received support in many congressional quarters. It is argued that if the books of the big auto companies or U. S. Steel were available for examination, it could be accurately ascertained just how much wage increase was justified. It is also argued that companies as big as U. S. Steel and General Motors are virtual public utilities. When they stop operation it affects business throughout the nation. Reconversion is absolutely stymied.

This is also why it is being proposed that President Truman revive the old TNEC, or something similar to it. The TNEC was a joint committee of Congress and the executive branch of the government which studied monopoly, little business, and the economics of the country generally.

Today, with reconversion bogged down and scores of new economic problems to face, both the administration and Congress lack the concrete facts on which to chart a revised economic course. That is why a new, quick, economic study along the lines of the old TNEC, is probably needed now more than ever before.

Washington Dines Out

Comes a dread moment after every dinner party when the men go off to smoke and the ladies are left to get in each other's hair. Such

WARNS OF CRISIS

"Gentlemen, while it is true that I have supported this measure in the past, I cannot in good conscience give it my support now. Sympathetic as I am to the necessity for improving farm income, I can only conclude that passage of such a bill at this time would be dangerously inflationary."

"Not only would it raise the cost of living for millions who cannot afford to pay more for the necessities of life," Hope continued, "but it would boomstrang against the farmer by breaking down all control over the items he must buy to live and keep in the farming business."

Judge Adolph Sabath, of Illinois, chairman of the Rules committee, then succeeded in having the committee pass over the bill. But it is still on the committee's agenda and may come up for a vote at any time.

Capital Chaff

After flirting with various law firm offers, Franklin Roosevelt Jr. finally decided to team up with New York's ex-Lieutenant Governor Charlie Poletti. The firm is Poletti, Diamond, Rabin and McKay.

Young Roosevelt has been doing a swell job pushing housing for veterans dumped off the boats from Europe. He is roaring mad at Mayor LaGuardia for neglecting this.

ized by government to protect the public interest there, too. Neither big business nor big unionism can be allowed to injure the economic system by prolonged work stoppages.

So if the public interest is paramount, it becomes the duty of the government through fact-finding agencies to inquire into the merits of a dispute where collective bargaining has failed to produce a settlement and mediation has been tried. The judgment of a government conciliator or mediator on the facts when given to the public would enlighten the people as to whether one side or the other is in the wrong and what steps if any should be taken by government to bring about a final settlement.

Larger and More Powerful

The problem of labor relations is not different from what it was in prewar days but today the economic units are larger and more powerful. The corporations are bigger and control wage rates of more workers than ever before. Likewise the unions control more members. Both economic units have become so strong that the public interest can readily be damaged. Whenever such a critical stage is reached in American life, history reaches that the Congress steps in and enacts corrective legislation.

It would have been better if the Labor-Management conference could have recommended such legislation but the emergence of a strike crisis now puts the problem on the doorstep of Congress at once. The veterans who fail to get jobs may not be inclined to blame either workers or management because it will be too confusing a subject to understand, but they will readily blame the Congress—which has access to all the facts and issues if it evades and avoids action and allows an intolerable situation to prevail.

The 1948 congressional elections are less than a year off and if 1946 is to be a year of economic war it is inevitable that the people will express themselves on it at the polls, and retire from office those senators and representatives who have sat by while reconversion has been retarded by economic strife on the part of a minority of the citizens of the country.

Atomic Energy Is Viewed as Means Of Averting Ruin

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON PARK, MASS., Nov. 23.—We probably are headed for two or three years of good business with a fair employment. Sixty-five years ago only one billion dollars was available for spending or investing. In fifty-eight years this gradually increased from one billion to fifteen billion dollars. But, during the past seven years, these fifteen billions have soared to seventy-five billions, most of which is waiting to purchase homes, merchandise and securities.

Possibilities of Inflation

Nothing will ever happen in this country comparable to what happened in Germany following World War I. On the other hand, further inflation is inevitable. This will be caused by a surplus of money and a scarcity of goods, homes and securities. It will be due to war waste, increased consumption and to the need of other nations for help to get on their feet, which will require continual expenditures. Labor union officials are also unconsciously causing inflation.

Increasing wages and prices will cause the spiral to go upward until people have spent, or invested, most of the above seventy-five billions when they will go on a buyers' strike. Then the spiral will collapse with the customary decline in production, much unemployment and lower prices. Before that time comes, however, homes, merchandise and securities will probably sell higher than at present. Yes, almost everything, except bonds, should continue to go up further in price.

Taxation Problems

We plan to collect in 1946 about thirty-five billions in federal taxes. This will probably be accomplished easily; but when the next depression comes it will be very difficult, if not impossible, for the federal government to collect one-half of this amount. This will be accompanied by another government spending spree and a resort to the printing presses. From such, everyone—wage workers, home owners and especially bondholders—could suffer terribly.

It is an old saying, "In time of peace prepare for war." Based on this principle, the federal government should immediately reduce government bureaucratic expenditures, encourage the production of goods and homes; and subsidize the unselfish—but sane—development of foreign trade. The world needs our charity and help now. Helping unfortunate people to raise their standard of living is not only a Christian thing to do, but it will be good business for us.

Atomic Energy Possibilities

Were I economic director of the United States, I would also immediately reconvene the scientists who worked on the atomic bomb and set them busy applying this new energy to everyday uses. We might still be in the depression of the 1870's, if steam energy had not pulled us out. We might still be in the depression of the 1890's, if electrical energy hadn't been harnessed. We would now be suffering from World War I, if the gasoline engine had not saved the day. Atomic energy may well serve a similar purpose to prevent a collapse around 1950.

I admit that the best authorities tell me that such an atomic development, within the next five years, is an impossibility. The stakes—namely the avoidance of national bankruptcy—are so high, however, that we should at once make a tremendous effort to show these "authorities" that they are wrong. We MUST immediately harness this new energy to develop new industries and new jobs.

Remember This Fact

Atomic energy for industrial and utility uses means vastly more than the substitution of atomic energy for coal and oil. Atomic energy produces an entirely new heat which is actually a new power. Atomic energy may be as much of an advance over steam power as steam power was an advance over hand power. Atomic energy will result in entirely new industries and vastly different machines than now exist, all of which will provide millions of new jobs if we get it harnessed in time. In short, to me the question is either of harnessing atomic energy before 1950 or perhaps facing national bankruptcy soon thereafter.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

HOLLYWOOD—Nowadays when ever hear a muffled scurrying under the eaves in my attic I don't rush for the rat-death or start briefing the cat. I know it's just another family of house-hunters looking for a vacancy. (And you'd be surprised how many people seem to think I have a vacancy in my attic.) The housing shortage is getting more acute by the hour. The guys who originally stuck those Los Angeles City Limit signs up knew what they were doing because city council just announced it was expecting a population of 7,000,000 very soon—perhaps tomorrow the way things are shaping up.

Discharged servicemen are coming into this area fast and the people who came here during the war to work aren't leaving because they like the marvelous, peachy climate. I know which side of the chamber my commerce is buttered on.

People are living everywhere. The other day I started to water my flower bed and a voice from the petunias yelled "Quick, Myrtle, grab the kids and head for high ground. It's the monsoon season!" My brother came out and yesterday he managed to get a house to live in. But it's only temporary. Lassie may come home again.

The real estate agents have all gone underground. They only come out on Groundhog day and if they see a vacancy they don't believe it! One fellow tried to stay in business but in just three hours he'd loosened both his eyeballs from shaking his head "No."

And a lot of the landlords won't take children now. One family had to let their six-year-old boy's hair grow and taught him to walk on all fours so they could palm him off as a harmless Springer spaniel. But it's pretty inconvenient. Every morning his mother has to take him to kindergarten on a leash!

Seven Homeless Families Taken By Neighbors

By GEORGE H. HANST
OAKLAND, Nov. 23.—Rehabilitation of the seven families made homeless and the resumption of the five businesses burned out as a result of last week's fire which destroyed the Nally building, corner of Second and Alder streets, occupied the attention of the town's citizens and organizations this week, and much progress has been reported by the American Red Cross county chapter, working both with a local Red Cross disaster committee and national headquarters representatives.

All families are either being taken care of temporarily in the homes of friends and relatives or have been placed through the local Red Cross committee, while heads of the business concerns have already made or are making arrangements for re-opening their establishments in the limited places available.

Elect Officers
At a general election at Oakland high school the following officers of the four classes were elected by secret ballot: seniors — Herbert Leighton, president; Robert Bosley, vice president; Mary Weeks, secretary, and Jane Reckard, treasurer. Juniors — James Smart, president; Nina Fauber, vice president; Lois Burger, secretary; Mary Hoult, treasurer.

Sophomores — Barbara Jamma, president; Ella Lou Ramsey, vice president; Earl K. Harvey, Jr., secretary and Bobbie Weeks, treasurer. Freshmen — Sue Liller, president; Eileen Simmons, vice president; Jane Humbertson, secretary and Russel Sanders, treasurer.

The elections were held under the

LISTEN WORLD!

—By Elsie Robinson
(Registered U. S. Patent Office)

IS A PART OF YOU DYING? Happily married? Yes? That's fine. But just what do you mean by that answer? JUST WHAT ARE YOU GETTING OUT OF MARRIAGE? JUST WHAT IS MARRIAGE DOING TO YOU?

Have you ever honestly faced that question? The hero of John Erskine's book, "SINCERITY," faced it. . . with amazing consequences. He, too, thought he was having a happy married life. Then an odd, provoking article set him wondering with this result.

"I'm one of those men," he said, whose lives are made narrow, as it seems to me, by the goodness of their wives, their respectability, everything that's admirable about them. . . . What Isabel likes in me are the few qualities which correspond exactly with qualities in herself. We confine ourselves to those common interests. But of course there are sides of my nature which match nothing in hers. If I try to develop them, she fears I'll drift away. To keep her contented, I must let part of myself die."

Is that what is happening to YOU, in marriage?

That old urge for adventure . . . those vital curiosities, speculations and rebellions . . . that whimsical streak of impudence that secret spring of poetry that ran like music beneath the workaday clamor . . . what has become of all that since you married? Why are you no longer the daring, dreaming person you once were? You've changed. . . you hate to acknowledge it. . . but you HAVE changed.

You didn't think that marriage was going to change you two. YOUR marriage was going to be DIFFERENT. YOUR marriage wasn't going to degenerate into the dull routine that had trapped your friends. For YOU-TWO understood each other. . . you could always be perfectly frank with each other. . . .

So you started the great experiment together, full of courage and honest and splendid vision. . . .

But somehow, by the end of the first year, the vision wasn't quite as glorious. That perfect frankness hadn't materialized. Of course you were just as much in love as ever. . . . but, well, Ella didn't exactly approve of some of your notions. Bill. . . and Jim got all smoked up over some of your ideas, Sally. . . and so, "TO KEEP THE PEACE" you kept certain things to yourself. . . . stopped giving yourself up to those dreams. . . . stopped flaming with those noble rebellions. . . . stopped listening for that secret music.

"LEARNING TO GET ALONG WITH EACH OTHER" . . . that's what you call it. LETTING "PART OF YOUR-SELVES DIE" . . . that's what it really is.

Letting your individuality wither and your differences smooth out into a deadly conformity! Yet those very differences were what first made you attractive to each other and that individuality was what made marriage so alluring.

And now because you didn't have the courage to be honest with each other, because you didn't have the courage to be yourselves, you are smothering in that monotonous sameness which has engulfed your friends.

You don't fight. You never criticize each other. You agree on everything. And so with each year you grow more comfortable and complacent—AND MORE DEAD! IS THAT what you call "a happy marriage?"

Husbands May Be "Marital Mutes," Miss Fairfax Says

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

"Five years ago I asked your advice, followed it, and things have worked out O. K. I now have another problem and it concerns my husband. He was overseas and is back now with an honorable discharge.

"While he was away he wrote such sweet love letters and I thought surely he had changed, but he hasn't. He never was affectionate and never paid much attention to our little three-year-old son. He never picks him up or plays with him. He doesn't seem to be proud of either of us, although I think in his heart he cares for us both; he just doesn't show it.

"I try my best to forget it, but I can't help wondering when he wakes up of the house without kissing us goodbye. It upsets me terribly. I've even thought of divorce.

You may have noticed in this column that wives have been writing about husbands they call "marital blind men"—husbands who never "see" how pretty their wives are, how spic and span are children and the house. "Marital blind men" accept but never see.

Besides "marital blind men," it seems certain wives have drawn star Cumen Mirando tops on all marital mutes, who who withhold the kindly word that sweetens toil, who seem to have a feeling that it's belittling to their dignity to kiss their wives or have a good time with the baby.

In a letter similar to yours which came some time ago, the wife took up the subject with her husband. She did this very gently and without nagging. The strange creature to whom she was married said: "By gosh! I never thought of that." He gave them resounding smacks all around, took his hat and rushed out of the house.

Thereafter he was affectionate when he thought of it. But as he was a good husband, his wife accepted him as a marital mute and then when he'd suddenly remember he kissed them all around smack, smack, like a pack of fire-crackers going off. He was just un-demonstrative. Like this woman, take the question up with your husband and tell him that a little show of affection would make you very happy. You really have no grounds for divorce.

Maryland Greets Ration Lifting On Meals, Fats with Satisfaction

(By The Associated Press)
Housewives, retailers and wholesalers greeted yesterday's ration lifting on meats and fats with satisfaction in Maryland.

Outward display was lacking, however, and dealers and buyers looked for no miraculous ending of shortages in pork, pork products, butters, lard and salad oils.

Veal was reported scarce to a lesser degree, but beef appeared to be plentiful. With an adequate supply of butter on hand, Annapolis was not following the pattern of the rest of the state in this commodity. Annapolis dairymen attributed their status to the stoppage of deliveries with the beginning of rationing.

Most Baltimore meat packers and retail meat dealers cautioned that existing scarcities would call for a certain amount of voluntary rationing within the industry from the wholesale level down to the consumer for some time.

All agreed that the saving in clerical work and time was inestimable.

One packer reported that retailers were asking for more hams, pork loins, bacon and other cuts in the belief that housewives would try to buy a whole ham for the week-end instead of being content with small cuts.

Another packer expressed concern about possible "cheating" at the expense of the poor man because of the butter shortage.

"I do think the lifting of rationing was a good move," he said, "but I can't help from wondering whether the very short butter supplies won't find their way to the rich man's table under some form of hedging."

In Frederick, Md., meat dealers said they had plenty of beef in stock, and farmers were starting to butcher hogs, improving the pork supply. City dealers also announced they had enough butter to take care of increased demands, in contrast to most of the state.

Blockade Cuts Rations Of Japs in Philippines
MANILA, Saturday, Nov. 24 (AP)—The American blockade of the Philippines cut the Japanese soldier's rice ration to 100 grams per day, supplemented by wild grass, a Japanese supply officer testified today.

At Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita's trial on war crimes charges, Maj. Gen. Goichi Kira, a prisoner of war, was the defense witness whose testimony attempted to show that the lot of American war prisoners and civilian internees was no worse than that of the Japanese soldier.

Kira, quartermaster of Yamashita's Fourteenth area army group in the Philippines, said that the rice supply on Luzon island was practically exhausted last December and January, and repeated calls for supplies from Indo-China went unanswered due to the American sea and air blockade.

Yamashita was greatly concerned over the food situation, and "expressed the desire that internees and prisoners of war be taken care of properly," Kira said.

"Full Employment" Bill Is Rewritten

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—The so-called "full employment" bill, already revised by the Senate, has been rewritten by a House subcommittee to set a goal of "a high level of employment," legislators said today.

A congressman who would not permit use of his name showed a reporter a copy of the substitute for one of the key measures in President Truman's legislative program. It omits all reference to "full employment" and "full production."

Instead, it declares the government's policy shall be to create "the maximum opportunities for employment" and to maintain "a high level of employment (including self-employment), production, and purchasing power."

It states that this shall be done "in a manner consistent with the American system of free enterprise" and calls for encouragement to private investment and individual initiative and the adoption of "sound fiscal policies."

The full committee is to meet Tuesday to pass on the new draft.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23 (AP)—A former Johns Hopkins university student who, as an army radar specialist, participated in the two atom bombings of Japan, came home today for his first furlough in three years.

Lt. Jacob Besser, Baltimore, was the only atom-bomb crewman who made both runs, on the Superfortresses Enola Gay and Great Artiste, over Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

He saw both explosions and commented, "It looked just as I expected it to." It wasn't until he heard news broadcasts the following day, however, that he knew the true nature of the explosion at Hiroshima.

Philadelphia Seeks Boys Carrying Dynamite
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23 (AP)—Four young boys, with what Detective William Stone said was enough dynamite to level a substantial section of Philadelphia, were the object of a city-wide search by police tonight.

The boys ranging from 12 to 14 years old, are apparently unaware of the danger of forty sticks of dynamite which Detective Stone said they took from a boat in the Delaware river.

A construction company supervisor, Bernard Ward, discovered the boys playing around a fire. He said he grabbed one of them as the youth was just about to toss four sticks of dynamite into the flames. The boy dropped the dynamite and all four ran away.

Occupation May

on the outbreak, which was the first reported involving American supplies, although there have been similar raids on Japanese stores in the northern island of Hokkaido.

While the food riot was in progress in Sendai, Gen. Kuniaki Koiso, one of Japan's wartime premiers, surrendered at Sugamo prison to American occupation authorities who had placed him on the "wanted" list of war criminal suspects.

The grayclad 65-year-old Koiso, leaning on a heavy cane and fingering a close-chopped mustache, told correspondents, "We believe in our innocence."

Koiso was premier from July, 1944, to April, 1945, resigning as a result of the American invasion of Okinawa. He said that actually, he knew the war was lost when he took office at the time Saipan fell but that he had hoped to recapture that island when the Philippines campaign was in progress.

Another member of the wanted fraternity, former Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka, contended that he had planned to go to Washington to seek a neutrality treaty with the United States in 1941 but was unable to do so because of illness.

Matsuoka said he still was ill, giving this as a reason for not yet surrendering to American authorities.

"If he had told me it would take two years or even one year I would not have issued the order and would have temporarily entered into an alliance with England instead of Russia," Hitler added.

Nazi Wore Polish Uniforms
In an attempt to conceal the aggression against Poland, the German troops would wear Polish uniforms, Hitler said.

"The invasion and extermination of Poland begins on Saturday morning," Hitler said. "I will have a few companies in Polish uniform attack in Upper Silesia or in the protectorate. Whether the world believes it does not mean a damn to me. The world believes only in success."

"The occasion is favorable now as it has never been. I have only one fear, and that is that Chamberlain (British prime minister at the time of Munich) or such another dirty swine will come to me with propositions or change of mind."

"He will be thrown downstairs, even if I must personally kick him in the belly before the eyes of all the photographers."

This speech, and other Nazi secret documents, requiring hours even to read, were presented to the court just before the tribunal adjourned for the weekend.

1,230 Teachers Quit in Maryland County Schools during 1944-45

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23 (AP)—From May, 1944, to May, 1945, 1,230 teachers quit in Maryland county schools and 1,300 have been appointed to take their place, the state department of education disclosed today.

In a report to county superintendents, the department said that the "peak of resignations and turnover for white teachers was reached in 1942-43, since which time there has been a gradual decrease."

For colored high school teachers, the department said, withdrawals and new appointments were at their highest point in 1944-45.

The smallest number and percentage of turnover was recorded on the Eastern shore—except for Somerset county—and the largest percentage of turnover was in Southern Maryland, the report stated.

Cecil and Harford counties have had no new teachers during 1944-45, while Baltimore and Prince George's counties hired 127 and ninety-three new teachers, respectively.

The number of inexperienced teachers employed in the past three years in elementary and colored high schools—and in the past five years in colored high schools—was larger than ever before, the department said, adding that the number of white inexperienced teachers in 1944-45 is "nearly 100 fewer in both elementary and high schools than it was two years ago."

The department stated that of the 1,230 withdrawals, exclusive of inter-county transfers, 289 left voluntarily without giving a reason, 118 substitutes dropped out, 110 went to teach in Baltimore city or in other states, ninety-nine withdrew after marriage, ninety-three moved away, and maternity was the reason for eighty-two withdrawals.

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., Nov. 23 (AP)—The Rev. W. H. Milburn, local pastor and secretary-treasurer of the Philadelphia district of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said today Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's speech scheduled for December 9 had been cancelled.

The Rev. Mr. Milburn, pastor of St. Matthew's African Union Methodist church, said "certain conditions had made it impossible" to continue with plans for the scheduled inter-racial meeting. He would not elaborate on the "certain conditions."

He added that after the Havre de Grace speech was cancelled, Mrs. Roosevelt was invited to speak instead in Philadelphia but that the widow of the late president had decided to cancel the speech.

Joseph H. Conway Supervises Unit At Naples, Italy

Chief Warrant Officer Joseph H. Conway, who in 1943 was awarded the Legion of Merit for his work in organizing a "forms writing" unit at Fort Benning, Ga., is in charge of a similar unit at the Seventh replacement depot, Naples, Italy, and is credited with introducing the system there.

An article in the November 9 issue of "Home Crier," published by men of the replacement depot, describes the manner in which Conway's unit operates.

Metal Plates Used
From questionnaires men fill out upon arrival at the depot, the unit gets the information it stamps on small metal plates, which then become a permanent part of the men's records and is sent along with them when they are shipped out, according to the article.

In addition to name, rank and serial number, the plate gives the authority for shipment home, tells whether men prefer water or air transportation, shows discharge both battalion and depot headquarters with locator cards to show exactly where men are at all times; it assists the special orders section in keeping the shipping status straight; it prints names on the shipping order when it comes time to hit the gangplank, and even provides the skipper of the ship with a complete passenger list.

Conway supervises fifty-one men who work three eight-hour shifts daily to prepare the metal plates, which save thousands of man-hours of clerical work.

Brother Is Discharged
A son of James M. Conway, 200 Virginia avenue, he entered the service in September, 1941, and was stationed at Fort Benning for three years before being transferred to Fort Dix, N. J. He arrived in Italy last December 25. In a recent letter to his father, Conway said he hopes to come home within two months.

His brother, John Conway, was honorably discharged from the army two weeks ago after serving overseas thirty-four months in campaigns in North Africa, Corsica and Italy. The brothers were together in Naples before John, a staff sergeant, flew back to this country to be discharged.

The Rev. Mr. Reese, a native of Wales, came to this country in 1912, after serving as pastor of St. David's City church in his native country for seven and one-half years. SPCA Agent Warns Garrett Stock Handlers

Says Animals Must Be Protected from Other Animals, Weather

By GEORGE H. HANST

OAKLAND, Nov. 23.—Following complaints of improper loading and inhuman crowding of cattle and other animals for shipment to live stock sales, George S. List, special investigator of the Maryland Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Baltimore, was in Oakland and vicinity for several days covering stock sales at Terra Alta and Accident.

He spent several days with Cpl. Thomas Currie, Maryland state police, warning farmers and truck drivers that trucks must not be overloaded and that where small animals are loaded with larger ones, partitions or divisions must be put in the trucks separating them, so that the smaller animals will not be trampled and injured. In winter stock must be given protection from the elements while in transit.

List said a large number of trucks were stopped and their drivers and owners cautioned as to the danger of improper methods of loading both in regard to the laws pertaining to cruelty to animals and from the commercial angle. He remarked this was designed to put an end to widespread instances of cruelty, which have been reported throughout the summer and fall, to headquarters in Baltimore, anonymously and otherwise.

He said he hoped that the warning would be sufficient to bring about an end to such practices without law action.

List said many of the trucks stopped had calves or pigs loaded together with large cattle, and it was pointed out that the small ones were in danger of being crushed.

No charges were preferred but he stressed that Cpl. Currie would keep a lookout for instances of actual or potential cruelty. At the Accident sale List made a public announcement of the purpose and intention of local authorities to enforce humane loading and transportation.

Pittsburgh Man Will Draw Plans For New Hospital

By W. A. SHOEMAKER

MEYERSDALE, Pa., Nov. 23.—Herbert Miller, Pittsburgh architect, has opened a temporary office in Meyersdale to facilitate drafting of plans for the proposed Meyersdale Community hospital, and will later submit tentative plans to the board of directors.

In the meantime the hospital fund is growing. Since last report nearly $3,500 was added to the total. Though the necessary total amount is not yet in sight, with the aroused community interest and the determination to make this dream hospital a reality, there is no doubt that the goal will be reached.

The women of the Catholic church will sponsor a benefit card party in SS. Philip and James hall next Wednesday evening. At the meeting of the junior section of the Woman's club held last evening plans were perfected for a dance on Christmas night in the high school auditorium, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the hospital fund.

Medical Society Elects
Dr. Thomas L. McCulloh was elected president of the Somerset County Medical Society succeeding Dr. Alexander Solosko, Salisbury and Meyersdale. The new president served as a lieutenant colonel in the army medical corps in World War II. He is now X-ray specialist in Community hospital, Somerset.

Other officers are Dr. Charles I. Shaffer, Somerset, vice-president; Dr. H. G. Haines, Berlin, secretary; and Dr. J. R. Hemminger, Somerset, treasurer.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Dr. Samuel Jacobson, of Memorial hospital, Cumberland, who spoke on "Treatment of Cardiac Emergencies."

Marriage Is Announced
Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Watson, North street, Meyersdale, announce the marriage of their daughter, Marie, to Paul G. Koval, Chicago, Ill. The wedding took place on November 1 at the First Methodist Church of Oak Park, a suburb of Chicago, with the Rev. Mr. Radcliffe officiating.

The attendants were Miss Marie Kosban and Marie Capt. Arthur G. Erdink, both of Oak Park. The bride is a graduate of the Meyersdale high school and for some time had been employed in the Goodyear aircraft plant, Akron, Ohio. The bridegroom is a discharged veteran of three years' service in the European theater of war. The couple will reside in Chicago.

Delozer Rites Set
Rites for Mrs. George C. Delozer, who died Wednesday morning at her home in Glencoe, will be held Saturday at 2 in the afternoon in Glencoe Reformed church, the pastor, the Rev. J. E. Gindlesperger, officiating. Interment will be in Lebanon cemetery.

Born January 21, 1873, she was a daughter of Frank F. and Mary (Walker) Petry, natives of Lonaconing.

Surviving are her husband and the following children: Fred W. and G. Albert Delozer, Connellsville; Mrs. D. A. Smith, Boswell; W. G. and Arthur Delozer, Cumberland, Md.; and Mrs. J. H. Harman, Glencoe. Two brothers, William and Frank Petry, Salisbury, also survive.

Homemade Doughnuts

FRUIT AND DOUGHNUTS... Good for snacks or dessert.

A CHEERY Way To Say "WELCOME HOME"

MONARCH COFFEE
500 other MONARCH Foods all just as Good

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

A good dessert, or in-between-meal snack is a bowl of fruit and a plate of doughnuts. A few nuts, and figs if you can get them, add to the handsome appearance of the bowl.

Perhaps you haven't enough fat for deep frying. In that case, buy your doughnuts at the store. But if you can have the deep-fat-fried doughnuts made at home, it should make your family happy.

Yeast Doughnuts
1 cup scalded 1 cup light brown sugar
1/2 yeast cake 2 eggs
1/4 cup lukewarm water 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening 1/2 cup flour
Place milk, sugar, salt and shortening in a large mixing bowl. When lukewarm add yeast dissolved in lukewarm water. Add well-beaten eggs, nutmeg and enough flour to form a soft dough. Knead lightly. Place in a large bowl and allow to rise until light. Turn on a floured board, pat and roll three-fourths inch thick and cut with a doughnut cutter. Place doughnuts on a floured board and let rise until light. Fry in hot deep fat at 360-375 degrees, turning to brown both sides. Drain on paper toweling or unglazed paper.

Baking Powder Doughnuts
3/4 cups flour 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
2/3 cup sugar 1/2 cup milk
1 cup sugar 1 cup milk
Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices. Add sugar gradually to well-beaten eggs and beat until light. Add flour mixture alternately with the milk and stir lightly. Turn out on floured board and shape lightly. Roll one-fourth inch thick and cut with a doughnut cutter. (If you haven't one, cut with the top of a baking powder can or an empty olive bottle.) Fry in hot deep fat for two to three minutes. Turn doughnuts when they rise to the top, to brown both sides. Drain on paper toweling or unglazed paper.

Cruisers
1 cup scalded 1 well-beaten milk
1 yeast cake 2 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup powdered sugar
3 tablespoons shortening
Place milk, sugar, salt and shortening in a large mixing bowl. When lukewarm, crumble yeast over the surface of the liquid. Add egg and one and one-half cups flour and beat thoroughly. Gradually add enough additional flour to form a soft dough. Turn out on a floured board and knead three minutes. Place dough in a greased bowl, brush with melted shortening, cover and allow to rise in a warm place until double in bulk. (About an hour, to an hour and a half.) Knead well and roll a half-inch thick, cut in 8 by 1 inch strips, double over and twist, and allow to rise about two to three minutes, until golden brown on both sides. Drain on unglazed paper or paper toweling. When cool, place cruisers, a few at a time, in a paper bag containing powdered sugar, and shake, to coat surface of the cruisers.

Use of Military Firearms Banned By Commission

Clerk of Court Robert Jackson has received new instructions from Ernest A. Vaughn, state game warden, in which it was pointed out that use of military firearms or domestic or foreign manufactured ammunition is strictly prohibited.

According to the provisions of Section Five, Chapter 708, of the Acts of 1943, Game and Inland Fish Commission, that went into state-wide effect November 19, it shall be unlawful to:

- 1-Hunt elk or deer or inland game with any military firearms capable of firing a series of bursts by automatic loading.
- 2-Use any firearms using domestic or foreign-manufactured military ammunition.

It was announced that the old provisions relating to use of military firearms has been revoked. According to the former statute, sportsmen could use military firearms that had been converted into sporting-type rifles.

Vaughn and Garner Wood Denmead, chairman of the game and inland fish commission, stated that the new regulations adopted by the commission will be rigidly enforced.

Three Real Estate Deals Revealed

Sale of a $12,000 property by Dr. and Mrs. Winter R. Prantz to Mr. and Mrs. George W. Renner was recorded Wednesday in the office of the clerk of court where the deed was transferred. The property, comprising parts of Lots 179 and 180, is located on Allegany street, near Poca street.

A property on Fort Hill terrace was sold for $7,800 by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Evans to Anna Christine Price, LaVale.

Another transaction involved the sale of a $7,000 property on Reservoir avenue by Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Dolan to the McKelvy-Bogner Company.

Sir Christopher Wren, famous British architect who built St. Paul's, also designed Wren hall at William and Mary College, Va.

2,800 PERSONS SIGN PETITIONS TO RAISE MINIMUM WAGES

Mayor Thomas S. Post has reported that returns from petitions to local labor, fraternal and community organizations advocating the passage of Senate Bill 1349, amending the Fair Labor Standards act to establish a sixty-five cents per hour minimum for labor engaged in commerce or in the production of goods in commerce, have been most gratifying.

Over 2,800 signers have been secured on petitions circulated to thirty-seven organizations here, and Mayor Post said that many petitions have not yet been turned in.

Local 1874, Textile Workers of America, reported Tuesday that over 2,000 signers have been secured by members of the local.

The mayor and city council several weeks ago went on record as favoring the passage of the bill which would establish the sixty-five rate this year.

During the second year the minimum would be increased to seventy cents and finally to seventy-five cents in the third year after the passage of the measure.

State Police, will discuss changes in the state motor vehicle laws and outline the new procedure for securing licenses.

Charles F. Neus Is Discharged from Navy

A local sailor who survived two typhoons in the Pacific area, Seaman First Class Charles F. Neus, 33, was discharged from Bainbridge naval training station Tuesday and has rejoined his wife, Mrs. Angela Neus, and three children at their home, 112 North Allegany street.

Neus, a former B. and O. machinist's helper, entered service in December, 1943. Shortly after he was shipped to the Pacific area the vessel on which he was serving was sunk during a typhoon. The local sailor escaped but told his father, Officer Fred C. Neus, 609 North Centre street, that he lost all his belongings when the ship went down in the terrific storm.

While serving on Okinawa he weathered the recent typhoon which injured personnel on the island and caused heavy damage to navy installations.

Neus met Lt. Comdr. J. K. Rozum and accompanied the former local physician to church on several occasions while on Okinawa.

TWO YOUTHS HELD ON THEFT CHARGES

James Hardin, 16, Potomac street, Ridgeley, W. Va., pleaded guilty to a larceny charge and was released on $500 bond. He will be heard in January before the Mineral county grand jury.

George E. Johnsons, 17, Bridge street, Ridgeley, pleaded not guilty to the same charge and is held in Mineral county jail for hearing.

The youths were arrested late last month in connection with the theft of three automobiles. They were accused of stealing a car owned by C. D. Hotchkiss, Bear Lake, Pa., in Ridgeley, October 24. The car was abandoned off Wempe drive after it stuck in the mud. A tan overcoat, cigarette lighter and case, watch, wrist watch, title to the car, birth certificate and wrenches were taken from the car.

The youths admitted breaking into and robbing the Henderson street market two weeks before their arrest. They took a .22 calibre revolver and some candy bars.

Jonas Self, 26, Flintstone, at first implicated by the youths, was released when they admitted lying about him.

Construction of government buildings will await home building in New Zealand.

Mexico City hopes to have meetings in taxicabs before the end of this year.

Alabama Will Play in Rose Bowl Game

Eastern Eleven Accepts Invite To Los Angeles

Crimson Tide Is Chosen for Sixth Time; Army Delays Answer

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 23 (AP)—University of Alabama was officially named today as the Eastern representative in the Rose Bowl January 1.

Vic Schmidt, Pacific Coast Conference commissioner, and Willis O. Hunter, chairman of the Rose Bowl committee, said Alabama had accepted the invitation to play in the thirty-second renewal of the annual New Year's day classic after "serious consideration had been given to the possibility of inviting undefeated Army."

Hunter said that Army authorities informed the committee that they would be unable to give an answer until after the Army-Navy game December 1, and that the committee believed it would be unwise to delay the selection of the Eastern representative that long.

His announcement at a press conference confirmed a Birmingham, Ala., report that Alabama had been extended the bid and accepted.

Bama Won Three Games
It will be Alabama's sixth appearance in the Rose Bowl, the most for any visiting representative. The Crimson Tide's Rose Bowl record—one of the best—reads three wins, one defeat and one tie.

In 1926, Alabama edged Washington 20-19; in 1927, fought to a 7-7 tie with Stanford; in 1931, defeated Washington State 24-0; 1935, beat Stanford 29-13; and was finally beaten in 1938 by California, 13-0.

The 1935 Crimson Tide, featuring the amazing pass combination of Dixie Howell and Don Hutson, is still generally regarded here as the greatest visiting team to perform in the Rose Bowl.

This year's Alabama aggregation, sailing along on the accurate passing arm of Harry Gilmer, has romped to seven straight victories and earned comparison with the 1935 team.

With two more games—Pensacola Navy tomorrow and the strong Mississippi State, on December 1—remaining on their regular schedule, Coach Frank Thomas's charges have amassed the following all-winning record:

Copped Seven in Row
Keesler Field, 21-0; Louisiana State, 26-7; South Carolina 55-0; Tennessee (last year's Rose Bowl visitor), 25-7; Georgia, 26-14; Kentucky, 60-19; and Vanderbilt, 71-0. Alabama has totaled 386 points to its opponents' 47.

Alabama's first three Rose Bowl teams were coached by Wallace Wade, who later moved to Duke. Thomas coached the 1946 and 1938 teams.

The Crimson Tide's Coast conference opponent will probably be decided by the Southern California University of California at Los Angeles game December 1. It would be the first time Alabama has met either of these teams in the bowl.

Quinn Resigns as Head Of Braves' Farm System

BOSTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Bob Quinn, who has spent more than fifty years of his life in baseball, resigned as supervisor of the Boston Braves' farm system today but may remain in the game.

The elder Quinn, who stepped down in favor of his son John as general manager of the Boston National League club last February on his seventy-fifth birthday, said he had two offers under consideration, but he added that "to be on the square with everybody, I won't say what they are."

Asked if he offers were in baseball, Quinn thought a second and grinned, "one of them is."

Bob's resignation, effective Nov. 30, was announced at Braves field.

Bob caught in various leagues in Virginia, New York State and Pennsylvania and at Columbus, now in the American Association.

Race Horse Trainer Appeals Suspension

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Trainer Tom Smith today appealed his one-year suspension on a charge of administering a drug to one of the horses in his care and will be given a hearing, probably next month, before the state racing commission and two stewards of the Jockey club.

The appeal was made fifteen days after the veteran trainer of the Maine Chance Farm Stable of Mrs. Elizabeth Graham—leading money-winning stable in America this year—had his license revoked. Commission and Jockey club stewards charged ephedrine was administered to the three-year old maiden Magnificent Duell before he won a six-furlong sprint at Jamaica November 1.

No date was set immediately for the hearing on his appeal but it was expected to be held about December 10.

Undefeated Cavaliers Face Maryland Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Undefeated Virginia and dangerous Maryland will bring college football to the nation's capital tomorrow in the only major collegiate game here this season.

Virginia is favored to remain in the unbeaten class as a prospective bowl-game participant but this is one of those traditional affairs in which upsets frequently occur.

Virginia has won seven straight games this season with only one close call, a 14-7 victory over West Virginia. Maryland has been good one Saturday and erratic the next.

In twenty-five meetings, the two schools have scored eleven victories each with three games tied.

BEALL HIGH'S UNDEFEATED SOCCER CHAMPIONS

SCORING EIGHT STRAIGHT WINS, Beall high school's soccer team won the championship of the W.M.I. League for the 1945 season. In league competition, the Froburg booters rolled up sixty-five points while limiting the opposition to eight. Bill Farrady was the league's leading scorer with 12 points while Charlie Geis, goalie, paced the penalty goal kickers with nine tallies. Beall has won twelve games including four non-league contests. The players, left to right: FIRST ROW—Connors, McMorran, Conway, Evans, Nickel, Frank, Shertzer and Keene. SECOND ROW—Charles Geis, Tom Stewart, Don Alexander, Bill Best, "Buddy" Rodda, Dale Coleman, Bobby Nelson, Bill Layman, Jack Starkey, George Thomas, Bill Farrady and Coach Edward (Ebbie) Pinzel.

Dick Metz Leads Hogan by Stroke In Alabama Golf

Former Posts 141 at Half-way Mark in $10,000 Tourney

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 23 (AP)—Touring the Beauvoir Country Club course below par for the second day in a row, Chicago's Dick Metz held the lead at the halfway point in Montgomery's $10,000 invitational golf tournament tonight.

The Windy City pro added a 71 to his two-under-par 70 of the first round to post a 36-hole total of 141.

Only one stroke behind was Bealton, Pa. shotmaker Hogan, who negotiated the wind-swept links in 69, four better than his opening round score.

While the play-for-money boys dominated today's activities, Frank Stranahan, Toledo, Ohio, amateur, turned in a second-round card of 68 and climbed up among the leaders with a 143 total.

Stranahan was forced to share third place with three pros. Matching his 143 score were Joe Zarsard, of Norristown, Pa.; Bill Heinlein, of Noblesville, Ind.; and Herman Keller, of Akron, Ohio.

Nine golfers, including such veterans as Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Sanford, Maine; Jimmy Hines of Chicago and Johnny Revolta, of Evanston, Ill., came in only three strokes behind the pace-setting Metz.

Sam Byrd, of Detroit, one of the pre-tournament favorites and winner of the recent Azalea open at Mobile, was six strokes back of the leader with 147. Dutch Harrison of Little Rock, runner-up at Mobile and another expected to figure in the top money here, matched his first round card of 74 for a 148.

By the margin of a point-after-touchdown, Allegany high school's football team is the winner of two crowns—the city and C. V. A. League championships—as the result of its 13 to 12 triumph over Fort Hill 37. This match, however, ended on the AHS 12 when Shaffer's fourth down pass was knocked down by Price and Strock.

Blocked Punt Is "Break"
Coach Henry's team, however, came right back by blocking Strock's punt on the AHS 15. White gained five yards and a five-yard penalty on AHS moved the ball to the five from where White scored. Partleton's kick for point failed and Fort Hill trailed 7-6 at the half.

Allegany showed its best punch of the ball game in the third quarter by marching 78 yards for its second and final touchdown. Marking up first downs on the AHS 33 and 46 and the FH 42 and 4, the Campers scored when Jimmy Radcliffe smashed over from two yards out. During this rally Radcliffe carried the ball six times and gained a total of forty-nine yards, one of his runs being good for 31 yards and first down on the 4. Two forward passes, Price to Brant and Price to Bartlett, netted 19 yards.

Poor Kick Aids Sentinels
As the third period ended, a bad pass from center, forced Radcliffe to hustle his punt and the result was a poor kick out of bounds on the AHS 45. Fort Hill capitalized on this "break" and moved to its second touchdown in eleven plays. Johnny Brown was the "big gun" in this offensive. In six running plays he racked up 27 yards, caught a red hot low pass from Don Sensabaugh that was good for 13 yards and topped off his stellar performance by cutting through right tackle for the final two yards early in the fourth quarter.

Fort Hill made threatening gestures later in the final quarter and the way the Sentinels were rolling things didn't look so healthy for Allegany. The Sentinels tried to pull the ball game out of the fire at this stage and traveled in high gear for 53 yards before the attack finally bogged down on the AHS 15 where Cook saved the day by stopping Sensabaugh on fourth down. Brown accounted for 24 of the 53 yards in this drive. Two five-yard penalties plastered on AHS helped the Sentinels as did an 11-yard dash by White.

Cook Is Defensive Star
Jimmy Radcliffe was Allegany's main ground gainer and Lindy Cook was the defensive star of the battle. White and Brown were the leaders on the attack for Fort Hill. Here's how the teams gained their yardage on ground plays:

Hearing Is Set For Third Horse Drugging Case

Alleged Stimulation of Cozey Will Be Probed Next Week

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23 (AP)—Chairman George P. Mahoney, of the Maryland Racing Commission, said today a hearing would be held Wednesday morning on the alleged stimulation of Cozey, a Pimlico steeplechase winner belonging to Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark's famed stable.

Those of Mrs. Clark's horses trained by Dolly Byers, and Byers himself, were suspended November 14 when the commission said a saliva sample taken from the animal showed the horse had been stimulated. Cozey's purse has been held up.

It was the third suspension in Maryland's fall racing. The two preceding it affected the Wexler stable—since then reinstated although Trainer James McGee was suspended for a year—and the Norwalk stable, whose trainer J. J. Bauer was ruled off Maryland tracks for an indefinite period.

Investigate Ownership
The commission also launched an investigation into Norwalk stable's ownership. Edward Segal, New York business man, said he had acquired it from a brother.

Testimony offered by Segal at a recent hearing bore him out. Mahoney said today in announcing the owner of the string. At the hearing, Segal said the animals were managed mostly by a brother, Harry Segal.

Palmer Ingram, Edward Segal's attorney, said the stable was preparing to ship its horses out of Maryland in the near future, adding that the commission's finding of ownership had not been amplified. Ingram said the racing season was too far advanced to permit reopening of the stable's activities here at this time.

Mahoney, meanwhile, said that the racing commission's campaign against racehorse stimulation would be continued until the practice was stopped.

He disclosed that saliva tests were taken from four horses in this year's Pimlico Special, including the eventual winners. On the same day, last Saturday, samples were taken not only from the winners of all races but from other entrants as well.

The usual practice of taking saliva samples from winners has been varied and extended, he said, so that trainers will never know when their animals will be tested, whether they win or not.

"We are also doing a good bit of urinalysis," he declared, "and I would say we are not far away from taking blood tests as well."

Agents Visit Barns
The chairman said the commission also had agents visiting the barns where horses are being prepared to watch that no stimulation is taking that cannot be detected by the saliva test.

Navy, Army Booters Tangle at Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 23 (AP)—The Naval Academy booters will be out after their fourth straight soccer victory over Army when the two teams meet here tomorrow (2:30 P.M.).

After dropping a 2-2 decision to Army in the first encounter, Navy won three straight.

Navy is unbeaten in seven matches this season, while Army has won five, lost one and tied one game.

Navy's offensive combination, which has tallied forty times this season, is paced by Capt. Arturo Calisto and J. M. P. Castano, rated by Coach Tom Taylor as among the finest players he has handled in twenty-five years as coach of the Navy soccer team.

Streams Are Muddy
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 23 (AP)—Nearly all of West Virginia's streams are too high or too muddy for week end fishing, the conservation commission reported today.

Waters were unsuitable in Barbour, Jackson, Marion, Monongalia, Preston, most of Ohio, Wood, Hampshire, Mineral, Hardy, Pendleton, Lincoln and Boone counties.

The fight was witnessed by 7,015 with receipts of $33,120.

LaMotta, Given Boxing Lesson, Flattens Woods

Terrific Body Barrage in Eighth Decides Boston Fight

BOSTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—After being subjected to a humiliating boxing lesson, Jolting Jake LaMotta, 164½, of New York, knocked out the artistic Walter "Pop-Eye" Woods, 167, of Astoria, L. I., N. Y., with a terrific body barrage tonight in the eighth round of their scheduled 10-round feature boxing bout at the Boston Garden.

Woods had a lead of four rounds to two until, with thirty-second left in the seventh, LaMotta cut loose with three terrific lefts and rights to the body, and as Woods slumped, connected with a bone-crushing right to the jaw.

Pop-Eye dropped face down, but he was up at nine and, although groggy, managed to out-step the determined LaMotta until the bell came to his rescue.

The New Yorker stormed out for the eighth and whaled the still staggering Woods about the body with both hands six times before concentrating his full fury against Woods's head. The latter dropped at 1:33 in the session but, after the 10-count, jumped to his feet and had to be pulled away.

Willie Joyce Gains Verdict over Barnum
CHICAGO, Nov. 23 (AP)—Willie Joyce, Gary, Ind., contender for the lightweight champion, outsped Joey Barnum, Los Angeles, to win an unanimous ten-round decision in the Chicago stadium tonight.

Joyce, held to a draw by Barnum in the first engagement a month ago, set a fast pace after losing the first round, and continued to pile up points with streaking left jabs to the face. He also used a left hook effectively, landing four to the chin in the third round without a return.

The 23-year-old Barnum, however, refusing to give ground, traded punches on even terms in the last two rounds. Joyce weighed 137, and Barnum 140.

The fight was witnessed by 7,015 with receipts of $33,120.

Terranova Wins
DETROIT, Nov. 23 (AP)—Former NBA Featherweight Champion Phil Terranova of New York punched out a unanimous 10-round decision over Michigan Lightweight Champion Bill Eddy, of Flint, Mich., in a dull bout at Olympia tonight.

A scant crowd of 3,885, who paid a gross gate of $8,738.83, booed the listless scrap on occasions. There were no knockdowns though each fighter slipped to the canvas once.

Terranova, at 126½, got six rounds on the referee's card, with three even and one for Eddy, who weighed 132½.

Coley Welch Scores
NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Coley Welch, Portland, Me. veteran, tossed too much leather for the harder-punching Joey Fiorelli, of Brooklyn, tonight to take a split decision in the 10-round feature bout at St. Nicholas Arena. Each weighed 164½.

Referee Ruby Goldstein and one judge awarded the scrap to Welch but Judge Harold Barnes, who scored it five rounds apiece, voted for the loser on points.

BEL AIR, Md., Nov. 23 (AP)—The trial of President Larry MacPhail of the New York Yankees on two charges of assault and one of disorderly conduct was postponed today until January 3.

State's Attorney D. Paul McNabb said that after a conference between the prosecution, the Harford County Circuit Court and defense attorneys, the postponement from December 10 to January 3 was ordered.

MacPhail was indicted on the three charges growing out of a disturbance at the Bel Air telephone exchange October 5.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our son and brother James Carl Jonsen who was killed overseas one year ago today, November 23, 1944.

There is grief that finds no comfort. There are wounds that do not heal. The sorrow found in our hearts is too deep to be revealed.

More and more each day we miss you. Some may think the wound is healed. But little do they know the sorrow that's within our hearts concealed.

LOVING MOTHER, FATHER AND SISTERS

In memory of Pvt. Ernest Mitchell, on his birthday, November 24, who died in Germany April 14, 1945.

God only knows how much we miss you. We will wait with patience till the night is over.

And meet you, dear, on the Golden shore.

Mother, Father, Wife and Daughters.

Union Officials Accept Proposed Kelly Wage Offer

Local 26, URWA, Will Meet Tomorrow To Act on Proposal

Officials of Local 26, United Rubber Workers of America, CIO, reported last evening they were "satisfied" with the terms of a tentative basis for the settlement of the local's wage dispute with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, and joined with a federal conciliator in recommending that workers of the local tire plant resume work so that negotiations may be completed on the issue.

Paul W. Fuller, Akron, United States commissioner of conciliation, who met with the union's officers, executive board and negotiating committee yesterday from 1 to 3 p. m., reported he had "presented a very definite basis on which to begin negotiations" for the settlement of the strike which is now dragging into its fourth week.

The conciliator met with company officials from 3 to 5 o'clock at the Kelly plant to discuss plans for the ending of the work stoppage.

Final Session Set

Fuller, federal conciliator for the rubber industry, said he will be in this city Thursday, November 29, at 10 a. m. when he will meet with the company and union to complete the terms of the tentative settlement presented yesterday.

Approval of the membership of the local, which represents the 1,900 odd production workers at the local plant, will be requested at a meeting of the local to be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in Textile hall, 34 North Mechanic street, according to Harry Castle, vice-president of the local.

While details of the settlement presented by Fuller were not released for publication, the reaction of the officers and negotiating committee of Local 26 implied clearly that they were very happy over the outcome.

Officers Satisfied

Castle, who was acting president in the absence of Ralph C. Beard, declared the officers of the local were satisfied with the proposed settlement and believed the terms set forth by the conciliator "will meet with the approval of all members of Local 26."

Harley V. Brown, District 1 URWA field representative, who has assisted in the negotiation of the union's demands for wages comparable to those paid to tire workers at the Akron area, asserted the international's position "has been sympathetic to the just demands of members of Local 26."

International URWA, he added, has been in contact with the Good-year Company in Akron for the past week and know the terms of the tentative settlement.

Asks Return to Work

The URWA official recommended that the workers of the union return to work in order to complete the negotiations and assured the local rubber workers of URWA's support and its intentions to make certain that the local 26 members are justly dealt with after their return to work.

A spokesman for the Kelly said yesterday that about four days will be required to put the local tire plant into full production. He added that the company estimated that the engineering department will need two days to inspect all steam lines and connections and to get machinery ready for operation.

The company official confirmed Fuller's conference with the company yesterday afternoon as well as the meeting planned here next Thursday.

The strike at the Kelly plant began about 6 p. m. October 31 when workers of the plant walked out after an unsuccessful negotiation session on the union's demands for wage increases which the company estimated would cost in excess of $2,000,000 a year. Additional demands, comprising URWA's Seven Point program, would cost the company another $2,000,000, according to a company statement.

Local Markets Report Meats, Butter Scarce

Few Supplies Are on Hand
To Meet Expected Rush
as Rationing Ends

Cumberland housewives who are planning to hurry down to their favorite market this morning and celebrate the end of meat rationing by stocking up on meat for the familyarder are in for a disappointment.

Managers of local markets and wholesale food dealers reported last night that their meat supplies are very low, with no relief expected until next week.

Although food fats, including butter, margarine, lard and shortening also became ration-free at 12:01 a. m. today, local dealers reported that butter is scarce, and that cheese supplies are low.

One market is entirely out of butter because Cumberland housewives bought out all the store's supply before the Thanksgiving holiday, with the average sale being two pounds of butter per customer instead of the usual one pound.

Although one wholesale dealer reported that supplies of pork, ham and bacon may become more plentiful within a few weeks, all dealers contacted said that the only meat available this weekend will be very scanty supplies of veal, lamb and sandwich meats.

As one of them said last night, "The supplies of pork we've been getting from the packers lately wouldn't be enough to feed one family, let alone all our customers."

Supplies of turkeys and chickens were plentiful and helped tide food dealers over the Thanksgiving holidays, and the hunting season has also relieved the meat shortage to some extent, however.

But general consensus of opinion was that Cumberlanders will be eating leftovers from Thanksgiving dinner this weekend.

One of the dealers summed up the situation by stating, "I don't know why the OPA bothered to stop rationing on meats and butter. We don't have any to sell anyway."

Cumberland Couple, Now Home, Served Fifty-nine Months in Army

Nurse Had Little Chance
To "Pull Rank" on Husband

One Cumberland couple, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Harman, 7 North Waverly terrace, can lay claim, between them, to fifty-nine months of service with the armed forces in World War II.

He entered the army on July 24, 1942, and later served thirty-two months with the Twelfth air force in the European theater of operations.

She followed him into the service by entering the army nurse corps in February 1944 and served twenty-one months in an army hospital at Charleston, S. C.

Cupid shot his arrow at Miss Virginia Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Marshall, Lonaconing, and Harman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Harman, Petersburg, W. Va., a short time before Pearl Harbor, but the war kept them from doing anything about it for almost four years, especially since Harman went overseas six months after he entered service.

Discharged October 3 Harman served first in North Africa, then at Sardinia and then in Italy with a radio unit of the Twelfth air force before he was discharged as a sergeant on October 3 at Greensboro, N. C.

Once he returned to this country from Italy, Harman and First Lt. Marshall were able to arrange a couple of days together and on August 30 they were married in the Methodist church at Lonaconing with the Rev. Edward Stacks, pastor, officiating.

Lt. Harman, however, didn't have much opportunity to pull rank on his husband. He had to return to camp within a short time and so did she and in a little more than a month he returned to civilian clothes.

Lt. Harman again followed her husband, this time on November 14 when she returned to civilian life with a discharge from Andrews field, Washington, D. C.

On Obstetrical Staff Since her discharge from service, Lt. Harman has returned to the staff of Memorial hospital, accepting a position on the obstetrical staff. She was graduated from Memorial Hospital School of Nursing in 1942. Previously she was graduated from Central high school, Lonaconing.

Her husband, a graduate of Petersburg high school and Catherine's business school, returned to his job with the Bennett Transfer Company.

Two Divorce Suits And Five Decrees Are Filed in Court

Two new divorce actions and court decrees severing the marriage bonds between five couples were filed in circuit court yesterday.

Suit for partial divorce was entered by Iva L. Witt against Roy E. Witt. According to the bill of complaint, docketed through Edwin M. Horchler, attorney, the couple were married July 15, 1933, and lived together until the first of this month. A restraining order issued by Chief Judge William A. Huster directs the husband not to molest his wife and child at their home on Cash Valley road.

A bill of complaint filed by Joreatha C. Wagner against Robert L. Wagner asks for an absolute divorce and the right for the plaintiff to resume her maiden name, Joreatha Catherine Wright. The couple were married July 11, 1936, and separated November 10, according to the wife's court papers. A restraining order issued by Judge Huster obliges Wagner to refrain from molesting his wife. The divorce action was docketed through Attorney Horchler.

Decrees of absolute divorce were signed by Judge Huster for Arthur P. Deter from Coella V. Deter; for P. Deter from Eckhart, from Anna May Carter, of Lonaconing; Buena V. Locke, Clarksburg, W. Local Operators Are Not Accepting Calls to Illinois

City Employee Is Run Over by B. and O. Amcelle Local Freight

No long-distance calls to Illinois are being accepted by Cumberland operators except for those made by returning servicemen or emergency or priority calls, Miss Adeline Minnick, a supervisor for the Cumberland office of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company, said last night.

Miss Minnick said the action was taken Wednesday on the instructions of W. R. Dorsey, Hagerstown, district traffic manager for the telephone company, after 8,700 members of the Illinois Telephone Traffic Union went on strike last Monday.

Few requests for long-distance calls to Illinois have been received here since the action was taken, Miss Minnick said.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23 (AP)—Miss Margaret Crooken, general chairman of the Maryland Telephone Traffic Union, said today that calls to Chicago and other Illinois areas were being refused by local operators.

She added that "this refusal will continue until there is some settlement of the dispute" in that area. She said the action was taken because 8,700 members of the Illinois Telephone Traffic Union were on strike.

"To handle long distance calls to or from the strike area would be to us, just like crossing a picket line," she added.

Union officials said some emergency calls were being placed from Baltimore to Chicago and other affected areas by telephone and teletype.

"If you want to call a city that you think may be affected by the strike," August B. Haneke, vice president and general manager of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore, said, "the only way to determine whether you can reach it or not is to ask the operator."

"We will try to be as helpful as we can in this emergency."

An estimated two to four inches fell in the Oakland section. Traffic was tied up in Frostburg for a few minutes yesterday afternoon because of ice.
